<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Missed Goal Chart</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Behavior</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notice Me</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notice Me</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Notice Me</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

What happens when kids miss goals?
- They may feel frustrated or angry.
- They may feel like their efforts are not being acknowledged.
- They may feel like they are not making progress.

What can I do?
- Help them understand why missing goals is a challenge.
- Encourage them to try again.
- Provide positive feedback when they make progress.

How do I know if my child is missing a goal?
- They may become disruptive or angry.
- They may show signs of frustration or dissatisfaction.
- They may seem discouraged.

What can I do to help?
- Be patient and understanding.
- Provide consistent support.
- Celebrate small successes.

What are some common mistakes?
- Not setting clear goals.
- Not enough support.
- Overwhelmed with tasks.

What can I do to prevent these mistakes?
- Set achievable goals.
- Provide consistent support.
- Break tasks into smaller, manageable steps.

How do I know if I am helping?
- They may show improvements in their behavior.
- They may express more positive emotions.
- They may feel more confident.

What are some signs of success?
- Improved behavior.
- Increased engagement.
- Positive feedback from others.